Vancouver DPAC is hosting an in-person presentation by THE OTHER PEOPLE for our parent/caregiver community.

The Other People are a B.C. based group of community leaders and anti-racism organizations across the racial, religious, and cultural mosaic. They are committed to using their collective voice to help break down the stereotypes that form the foundation of personal and societal bias. Their aim is to expose individuals to people who have experienced discrimination based on their religious, ethnic, or cultural backgrounds. The Other People hope “to make a world of difference” by encouraging those they meet to overcome the barriers that prevent us all from accepting and understanding one another.

Since The Other People’s first event in 2021 they have spoken with more than 5,500 students, faculty, administrators, and business people at more than 40 venues.
