Requesting Grade 12 Courses

Some Gr. 11 students will request Gr. 12 academic courses during the Gr 11 year which we try to accommodate as a school.

When seats become limited, priority will be given to Gr. 12 students to be in those classes.

Post-Secondary -Grade 11 Marks

Grade 11 academic course work can factor into admissions decisions universities in different ways depending on the school and program you are considering which is why it's important to do your research. Please consider the following:

- * Some PSI's will consider core Gr. 11 course marks as general entry requirements (eg: English 11, Pre-calculus 11) though they carry less weight than Gr. 12 required academic courses (eg: UBC, SFU, UVIC)
- * Gr. 11 marks may be considered if a required Gr. 12 course mark is unavailable (i.e. to be taken in Semester 2 of Gr. 12), the PSI may look at the mark you earned in the equivalent Gr. 11 course (eg: U of T)
- * An overall average of Gr. 11 and 12 courses is used, minus P.H.E. courses and the lowest mark among all others. Gr. 12 marks in the same subject area can be weighted more heavily (eg: UBC).

Broad Based Admissions

This refers to additional considerations, beyond marks, that are taken into account for admission decisions. Here are some examples:

Fine Arts Programs — usually include a portfolio, audition or written submissions.

Business Degree Programs — often require information about leadership, volunteering, community work, references, and may have a video submission or video interview.

UBC — for all programs, students are required to complete the Personal Profile and to provide references.

SFU: Admission Details

- Grade 11 Requirements:
- They list “no specific grade 11 requirements” BUT Math 11/Math 12 (minimum 60%), English 11/12 (min of 70%), Admission is based on an evaluation of all approved academic Grade 11 and 12 courses, including any specific course requirements set by the faculty or program to which you are applying. *certain grade 11 courses are needed to prepare for the grade 12 level
- Grade 12 Requirements:
- Minimum final grade of 70% in English Studies 12
- Minimum of 5 Grade 12 courses from SFU’s approved course list (including English Studies 12).
- Two lists of approved grade 11 and grade 12 courses for each program/faculty:
- Minimum of 5 approved grade 12 courses (including program-specific requirements)
- Note: Very important to program specific required courses

UBC: Admission Details

- Breadth: UBC will look at your grades in nearly ALL your academic Gr.11 and Gr.12. They will drop your lowest Gr.11 or Gr.12 course so it is safe to experiment.
- Depth: UBC will look at “rigour” of course work and overall course load to ensure suitability and preparedness. They will pay particular attention to courses related to what you want to study. If you have the course at both the Gr.11 and Gr.12 level, more emphasis will be placed on the Gr.12 grade.
- Relevancy: Pre-requisites and program requirements are not changing. You do not have to take different or more courses than in the past. Take courses in secondary school that are related to what you want to study at UBC. Doing so will increase your chances of admission.
- Individual Context: Looking at student engagement, accomplishments, and personal circumstance through the Personal Profile. They want to hear the student’s genuine voice and are looking for substance.

UBC has expanded the ways in which they consider students for admission. When considering a prospective applicant, they consider the following:

- Overall Average calculated on marks from all courses in Grades 11 and 12 (excluding PE, Applied Skills, Skills, Community Service, CLC 12). Note: a maximum of 2 fine or performing arts courses can be included each year.
- Core average: calculated on relevant program related courses taken in grades 11 and 12. Note: this will always include English 11 and 12.
- Depth: Taking a challenging course, even if not required, or if marks are not exceptional, is recognized.
- Breadth: Taking diverse courses in different subject areas, even if marks are not exceptional, is recognized.
- Having the highest grades is not the only way to get in – challenging yourself or taking a well-rounded course load can also be beneficial. The Personal Profile can also tip the balance.

Post-Secondary Planning: American Schools

Admission to many American colleges/universities can be very competitive, and they will consider a broad range of factors such as:

- Course Marks – they often look at your entire school record from Gr. 9 – 12.
- Standardized Assessments –usually require scores from SAT or ACT examinations.
- AP Examinations – AP exams -standardized assessments that allow institutions to compare applicants.
- Broad-based Factors –they want to know about your leadership and volunteer work, community involvement and activities at school.
- References – these provide information regarding performance, character and extra curricular activities. Reference usually completed by the counsellor and one subject teacher of your choosing.
